

JASCO Pulse eNewsletter – March 22, 2006

Dear JASCO Members:

Happy Spring to you all! Now, if we could just get the weather to cooperate with us...

We've had an exciting beginning to 2006 with our Anniversary Party and the Speech Contest, and there is much more to come. We've added a lot of new social events to this year's calendar in hopes of bringing our members and their families together for some fun. We've renamed our eNewsletter to JASCO Pulse and reformatted its presentation in what we hope is a better way to communicate up-to-date information on all things related to Japan. And, we'll start archiving all JASCO Pulse eNewsletters on our website so you can always access this information even if you delete this e-mail!

Those are just a few changes we've made and there are more in the future, so let us know what you think and send us your ideas for more... and don't forget to check out our website and the calendar where these and future events are all listed.
